

Sheen Mount Primary School: Helping a busy school minimise its energy spend

Sheen Mount Primary School in London is committed to excellence in learning and supporting all children to fulfil their potential.

How we support Sheen Mount Primary School

Sheen Mount Primary School was procuring its energy as part of a public sector buying group.

The school was seeking a new approach to energy procurement that afforded more control of buying decisions and better visibility of current and future energy spend.

The school was nearing the end of its contract end date with its current supplier and was seeking clarity on when it could leave the framework in order to access a wider range of options for its energy supply.

We supported the process by confirming the contract end dates and the time frames for withdrawing from the framework.

We worked with Sheen Mount Primary School to understand how it was using energy and discuss the different buying options to find a solution that suited the school's risk appetite and available budget.

We supported the school's transfer to the new energy contracts we procured at the appropriate time and ensured opening and closing reads followed.

Today, we offer our full energy management service to the school, which includes bill validation to check and validate bills for any errors ahead of payment, and additional value-added services such as monitoring the consumption to ensure it remains within the school's profile tolerance.

“Working with Power Direct gives me one less thing to worry about. The biggest benefit has been the availability of the team who are so approachable and always quick to help with any queries. Knowing that my Account Manager is at the end of the phone means I can concentrate on other areas of making our school run smoothly.”
